

What brings you to the conference?

Identify one key issue in economics learning and teaching

Student engagement

Student engagement

Engagement

Where's the chalk ?

Mixed ability classes

Student engagement

Inclusivity

Engagement

Engagement

Identify one key issue in economics learning and teaching

Relevance

Student engagement

Engagement

REF

Practical application of the theory learnt in University when arriving in the workplace.

Student numbers

Lack of pluralism

Student engagement

Math skills

Identify one key issue in economics learning and teaching

Applying the theory to public policy questions.

New times?

Lecture attendance

WHY study ECON?

Time

Relevance for graduate careers

Attendance

Attendance

Retention

Identify one key issue in economics learning and teaching

Engagement

Student engagement

Assessment

Large classes

League tables

Engagement. Attendance. How to integrate employability in the curriculum. Avoid mathematical arms race.

Lack of experience and practice of critical learning

Irrelevance of theoretical discussions

Strategies for combating essay mills

Identify one key issue in economics learning and teaching

Buy-in from colleagues on reforming teaching and learning

Different expectations of assessment.

Relevance,

Motivation

Rebalancing content to rebalance gender mix

Applicability

Relevance of the subject to the student and the institution

Lecture capture

Attendance

Identify one key issue in economics learning and teaching

Assessment

Teaching Management students; large cohorts; student engagement with international but largely monocultural groups

Real life degree relevance

the imaginary panacea of
lecture capture

Convince my colleagues to engage with teaching

786670